

Prescriptions for the Future and Personal Reflection
ORGANIZE YOUR RESPONSES INTO PARAGRAPHS!

Prescriptions for the Future – What now? (Min. 1 page)

1. Summarize the content knowledge you have gained while completing this paper. How did your knowledge at the end of the research and writing process differ from your knowledge at the start?
2. What do you think is/was the significance of your movement throughout US history and into the present? Why?
3. Based on your research, what do you think is the future of the movement? Will it take on a new focus? Will it become less important or more important in American history? Why? (Give specific evidence you've learned that led you to your conclusions).

Personal Reflection (Min. 1 page)

1. What are your thoughts and opinions on this movement? Why has it been successful (or not)? What do you think activists should do to make the SJM successful or continue its SJM's successes? Explain your answers and base them in your newly expanded knowledge. (MIN ½ page)
2. Describe the process you used to complete the assignment. What were your particular strengths? What areas do you wish you'd asked for or received more help on? Explain your answers.
3. How do you think your final product turned out? What are you most proud of in this paper? Explain your answers.
4. Now that you've completed this assignment, what will you do differently next time you're assigned a research paper? Why?
5. Now that Ms. Libby has used this assignment, what should she do differently next time she assigns it? Why? Give thoughtful and useful critique. (Tip: "She shouldn't assign the paper at all" is not thoughtful or useful critique.)

Prescriptions for the Future and Personal Reflection
ORGANIZE YOUR RESPONSES INTO PARAGRAPHS!

Prescriptions for the Future – What now? (Min. 1 page)

1. Summarize the content knowledge you have gained while completing this paper. How did your knowledge at the end of the research and writing process differ from your knowledge at the start?
2. What do you think is/was the significance of your movement throughout US history and into the present? Why?
3. Based on your research, what do you think is the future of the movement? Will it take on a new focus? Will it become less important or more important in American history? Why? (Give specific evidence you've learned that led you to your conclusions).

Personal Reflection (Min. 1 page)

1. What are your thoughts and opinions on this movement? Why has it been successful (or not)? What do you think activists should do to make the SJM successful or continue its SJM's successes? Explain your answers and base them in your newly expanded knowledge. (MIN ½ page)
2. Describe the process you used to complete the assignment. What were your particular strengths? What areas do you wish you'd asked for or received more help on? Explain your answers.
3. How do you think your final product turned out? What are you most proud of in this paper? Explain your answers.
4. Now that you've completed this assignment, what will you do differently next time you're assigned a research paper? Why?
5. Now that Ms. Libby has used this assignment, what should she do differently next time she assigns it? Why? Give thoughtful and useful critique. (Tip: "She shouldn't assign the paper at all" is not thoughtful or useful critique.)